

We had a great six days at Tunica. The weather cooperated enough for us to get all planned rounds in, even though it was a little windy. The weather for TPC Southwind really looked iffy, but the first round of rain came through overnight and the second round started just as our last group had finished, we timed it perfectly. From the feedback I have received, it appears that everyone enjoyed their time at Tunica. With our number one objective being to have fun, I think we met it.

The results are attached. The first file is the prize and refund payout. The prize money is a little less than we have had in the past because of the higher expense of this tournament I kept the prize fund lower. This resulted in fewer places being paid. The rest of the files are the actual results of the three different tournaments we played (Warmup, the 72 hole tournament, and the TPC course). I refunded everyone that did not participate in any day. We had exactly 70 players play at the TPC course, which met the minimum we had to have exactly. Steve will get the checks out shortly.

As a note, you are required to enter your scores in your handicap system as tournament scores. I have received complaints in the past about people "working" their handicaps and playing well below their handicap at Travel'n'Golf tournaments. As a result, we have formed a handicap committee to review and investigate handicaps. One of the things that the committee will be looking for is if tournament scores are entered correctly. Please follow the USGA rules and BEGA by-laws by complying with this.

Now that Tunica is final, I will start putting together our Perdido Key Tournament which will be from November 3-9. The courses for the 72 hole tournament will be Gulf Shores Golf Club on Thursday, Lakewood Golf Club on Friday and Saturday ( we will play both of their courses this year), and Lost Key on Sunday. I am still working on finalizing the courses for the other three days. If you have not already got your reservations at Sandy Key made, you need to do so as soon as possible.

A few of you have told me that you would like to go to Scottsdale next spring. I am willing to put this together, to include playing at the Scottsdale

TPC where the Waste Management/Phoenix Open is played by the PGA. If any of you have other locations you would like to see a Travel'n'Golf tournament go to, please let me know and we will see what we can do. Over the years, we have played in Las Vegas, Hawaii, Myrtle Beach, and now Tunica, so we have proven we can have successful tournaments just about anywhere.
